FROZEN OYSTERS.—Admirers and consumers of the oyster (who that admires does not consume?) will be happy in the knowledge that a supply of these excellent bivalves is to be imported from New Zealand. Henceforth the sheep and the oyster will be companions in icy immolation to satisfy the morose and epicurean palates of the mother country. The latest development of Colonial enterprise is an oyster industry. The oysters are frozen in blocks of eight or fifteen dozen (at present 5,000 dozen are on their way to England), and may be used, when thawed, for soups, sauces, stews, and patties. No one has suggested that the epicure shall take his bivalve in a frozen state, naked and unashamed: all the New Zealand oysters will be availed from their natural habitations, and the genuine Whitstable thus gain another chance of maintaining their hold upon public affection and favour.—Birmingham Gazette.

Pepper, vice-chairman (who presided in the absence of Mr. E. Feldman, the chairman, through indisposition), Mr. J. W. Harris, Mr. W. Wetherley, Mr. E. M. Collar, and the Clerk, Mr. T. G. Browning.
